WELBORNE ARTS FESTIVAL 2007

WELCOME

Our seventh festival, with the theme of 'skies above and earth below', includes top quality visual art, music, literature, performance, archive film, flowers in the church, lunches, teas and ice creams.

The final programme and timing of events, will be published on www.welborne.org.uk

VISUAL ART

New Zealander Juliet Arnott is our artist-in-residence who has been commissioned to create a fantastic woven hazel sculpture in the churchyard. You are welcome to come and talk to Juliet and watch her work during the month before the festival.

An outdoor exhibition will include life size sculptures by Neal French, metal sculptures by Berni Marfleet and Sarah Florence's deer. Marquee exhibitions this year are by the InPrint group of poets and artists, our regular high quality villagers' exhibition and all the entries in our photography competitions.

READINGS AND BOOK SIGNINGS

Beth Webb (Saturday and Sunday)

Beth is a children's writer and storyteller from Somerset. 'Junkyard Dragon', for younger children, was published early in 2007. 'Star Dancer', the first of a quartet, is published in paperback May 2007.

Tessa West (Saturday and Sunday)

Tessa is a novelist who lives in Harlestone. Her next book will be 'Companion to Owls'.

Simon Scarrow (Saturday)

Simon is the author of many books about the Romans. His new book 'The Generals' is published in May 2007.

Sarah Bower (Sunday)

Sarah teaches at UEA and is Literature Development Officer at Creative Arts East. Her new book 'The Needle in the Blood' is published on 2 May 2007.

Daljit Nagra (Sunday) as part of Norfolk Reads & Writes.

The winners of our writing competition.

WRITING WORKSHOPS

Beth Webb and Tessa West will be running workshops both days. Dereham Library and the Dereham Times are encouraging individuals and local reading groups to read their work before the festival.

MUSIC

Live music of all sorts during Saturday 16 June, including performances by local schools as part of our 2007 schools project under conductor Sian Croose.

The 32-piece Dereham Band performs at our Saturday evening concert in All Saints Church at 7.30pm.

For tickets please complete and return the booking form or call 01362 850268. In advance: £7 (concessions £6) On the door: £8 (concessions £7)

The East Anglian Traditional Music Trust will provide all the music, give talks and demonstrations throughout Sunday 17 June.

PERFORMANCE

We are delighted to present our first ever puppet show called 'My Tree', a contemporary fairy story for children and families, performed by Sussex-based, theatreRotto productions.

Puppet Shows (both afternoons) and Workshops (both mornings)

Town Crier

We welcome back Sheringham Town Crier, Tony Nelson, who will make sure you know what is going on.
